Blessing over flowering fruit trees / Birkat Ha’ilanot

ברוך אתה יתברך על מלאכת גידול עץ פירות הכלם
וכך מהבראת שבעת עולמות כלם

Blessed be You, Yah/Adonai our God ruler of all space-and-time, who left nothing lacking in this world, and created in it good creatures and good trees, giving pleasure through them to the children of Adam.

Barukh Atah Adonai Eloheinu Melekh ha’olam shelo chisar ba’olamo klum uvara’ vo briyot tovot v’ilnot tovim l’hanot bahem b’nei Adam

Halakhah

1) The time for blessing is during the month of Nisan, and some say until the end of Iyar. If fruit trees have not yet flowered where one lives, or one hasn’t seen them, one can say the blessing any time until the fruit starts to grow. The blessing is said only one time each year.

2) One should have in view two fruit trees in flower. Two trees together remind that trees fertilize each other, and are interdependent upon each other.

3) The trees should not be grafted one species onto another. They should be trees able to bear edible fruit, not trees bred strictly to be ornamental.

4) There is debate about whether to bless over flowering trees that are less than three years old, because their fruit is orlah and so not permitted to be eaten. But if one is giving thanks for the capacity of trees to create beauty and fragrance and fruit, then such trees are appropriate for blessing.

Some rabbinic teachings about fruit trees

Each and every tree is destined that they should put forth fruit...as it is said: “And the land will give her produce and the tree of the field will give his fruit.” (Lev. 26:4) Midrash Alpha Beta, Batey Midrashot, 430

“When you besiege a city many days...you shall not destroy her tree...for from him (the tree) you may eat...For is the tree of the field to draw fruit without you?” (Deut. 20:19) R’ Yishma’el said: The compassion of the Place/Makom (God) is on the fruit of the tree....For if scripture cautions you about the tree that makes fruit, all the more so the fruits themselves. Sifre Y D’varim, Pisqa 203

Some verses on flowering trees

Come my beloved, let us go out to the field, we will awake early, to the vineyards, we will see if the vine flowered, the blossom opened, whether the pomegranates are sparkling with flowers – there will I give my caresses to you. (Song of Songs 7:12-13)

Drash – is anything lacking in God’s world?

In the prayer after eating that can be used for any type of food called Borei N’fashot, we say, “Blessed be You...who creates many souls and everything that they lack, for everything that You created” borei n’fashot rabot v’chesronan – implying that it is part of the essence of each creature that it lacks something. The blessing continues, “to bring to life through them” l’hachayot bahem – through all those things that are lacking – “the soul of all Life” nefesh kol chai. One blessing says that the world lacked nothing, the other, that everything in the world is lacking something. It is only because what one creature lacks another provides that we can say that the world “lacks nothing”. Together all the creatures weave the web of Life.

Sod – a tree is a symbol of God

The letters of Ilan or tree add up to 91. This is equivalent to YHVH (26) + Adonai (65).

A Prayer – based on the original Tu Bishvat seder

O God, who makes, forms, creates, and emanates the highest worlds! You made the trees and grasses grow from the ground in the pattern of these highest worlds. May it be Your will that our blessing over these trees and enjoyment of their flowers and meditating on their fruits to come will strengthen the flow of love and blessing over the trees, to make them grow and bloom, for good life, for blessing and for peace, for us and for the bees and birds and all the creatures that depend upon them. May all Creation return to its original strength, and may we see the rainbow rejoicing in its colors. And may all the sparks of divine energy, whether scattered by our hands or by the hands of our ancestors or by the sin of the first human against the fruit of the tree, be returned and included in the majestic might of the Tree of Life.

One more blessing – for the sweet smell of flowers on the trees

ברוך אתה יתברך על מלאכת גידול עץ פירות כלם מריה גורא קשימי

Barukh Atah Adonai Eloheinu Melekh ha’olam borei ‘atei b’samim

Blessing over flowering fruit trees / Birkat Ha’ilanot

ברוך אתה יתברך על מלאכת גידול עץ פירות הכלם
וכך מהבראת שבעת עולמות כלם

Blessed be You, Yah/Adonai our God ruler of all space-and-time, who left nothing lacking in this world, and created in it good creatures and good trees, giving pleasure through them to the children of Adam.

Barukh Atah Adonai Eloheinu Melekh ha’olam shelo chisar ba’olamo klum uvara’ vo briyot tovot v’ilnot tovim l’hanot bahem b’nei Adam

Halakhah

1) The time for blessing is during the month of Nisan, and some say until the end of Iyar. If fruit trees have not yet flowered where one lives, or one hasn’t seen them, one can say the blessing any time until the fruit starts to grow. The blessing is said only one time each year.

2) One should have in view two fruit trees in flower. Two trees together remind that trees fertilize each other, and are interdependent upon each other.

3) The trees should not be grafted one species onto another. They should be trees able to bear edible fruit, not trees bred strictly to be ornamental.

4) There is debate about whether to bless over flowering trees that are less than three years old, because their fruit is orlah and so not permitted to be eaten. But if one is giving thanks for the capacity of trees to create beauty and fragrance and fruit, then such trees are appropriate for blessing.

Some rabbinic teachings about fruit trees

Each and every tree is destined that they should put forth fruit...as it is said:

“And the land will give her produce and the tree of the field will give his fruit.” (Lev. 26:4) Midrash Alpha Beta, Batey Midrashot, 430

“When you besiege a city many days...you shall not destroy her tree...for from him (the tree) you may eat...For is the tree of the field to draw fruit without you?” (Deut. 20:19) R’ Yishma’el said: The compassion of the Place/Makom (God) is on the fruit of the tree....For if scripture cautions you about the tree that makes fruit, all the more so the fruits themselves. Sifre Y D’varim, Pisqa 203

Some verses on flowering trees

Come my beloved, let us go out to the field, we will awake early, to the vineyards, we will see if the vine flowered, the blossom opened, whether the pomegranates are sparkling with flowers – there will I give my caresses to you. (Song of Songs 7:12-13)

Drash – is anything lacking in God’s world?

In the prayer after eating that can be used for any type of food called Borei N’fashot, we say, “Blessed be You...who creates many souls and everything that they lack, for everything that You created” borei n’fashot rabot v’chesronan – implying that it is part of the essence of each creature that it lacks something. The blessing continues, “to bring to life through them” l’hachayot bahem – through all those things that are lacking – “the soul of all Life” nefesh kol chai. One blessing says that the world lacked nothing, the other, that everything in the world is lacking something. It is only because what one creature lacks another provides that we can say that the world “lacks nothing”. Together all the creatures weave the web of Life.

Sod – a tree is a symbol of God

The letters of Ilan or tree add up to 91. This is equivalent to YHVH (26) + Adonai (65).

A Prayer – based on the original Tu Bishvat seder

O God, who makes, forms, creates, and emanates the highest worlds! You made the trees and grasses grow from the ground in the pattern of these highest worlds. May it be Your will that our blessing over these trees and enjoyment of their flowers and meditating on their fruits to come will strengthen the flow of love and blessing over the trees, to make them grow and bloom, for good life, for blessing and for peace, for us and for the bees and birds and all the creatures that depend upon them. May all Creation return to its original strength, and may we see the rainbow rejoicing in its colors. And may all the sparks of divine energy, whether scattered by our hands or by the hands of our ancestors or by the sin of the first human against the fruit of the tree, be returned and included in the majestic might of the Tree of Life.

One more blessing – for the sweet smell of flowers on the trees

ברוך אתה יתברך על מלאכת גידול עץ פירות כלם מריה גורא קשימי

Barukh Atah Adonai Eloheinu Melekh ha’olam borei ‘atei b’samim

[cc] 2017, created by Rabbi David Seidenberg, neohasid.org. For more Earth prayers for Earth Day Shabbat, the Climate March, or the rest of the year, see neohasid.org/resources/earthprayers. For information on Rabbi Seidenberg's book Kabbalah and Ecology, see kabbalahandecology.com.
A Prayer for Our Earth
Pope Francis, Laudato Si

All-powerful God, great and mighty,
you are present in the whole universe
and in the smallest of your creatures.
You embrace
with your tenderness all that exists.

Pour out upon us the power of your love,
that we may protect life and its beauty.
Fill us with peace, and bring peace upon us that we may live as brothers and sisters harming no one.

O God of the poor, orphan, and widow,
help us to rescue
the abandoned and forgotten of this earth,
so precious in your eyes.

Bring healing to our lives,
that we may protect the world
and not prey on it,
that we may sow life’s beauty,
not pollution and destruction.

Touch the hearts of those who look for gain
at the expense of the poor and the earth.
Teach us to discover the divine worth of each thing,
to be filled with awe and contemplation, to recognize that we are profoundly united
with every creature,
as we journey towards your infinite light.

We thank you who dwells within us
for being with us each day.
Encourage us, we pray,
to do Your will with a whole heart
to pursue righteousness in our struggle for justice, love and peace.

David Seidenberg is creator of neohasid.org and author of Kabbalah and Ecology: God’s Image in the More-Than-Human World. Words in sans-serif have been added to the original prayer to relate it more closely to Hebrew idioms and liturgy.